We started these when my grand child was quite young and now she's reading them on her own. She and I both love them. As a history teacher, I appreciate this first foray into our country and world's past. She's thrilled that some of these books are in her first grade classroom and that other children know about them, too. I agree with many other reviewers that these books have become so much better as the series continues. I'm glad we started at the beginning, but the latter stories are far superior to the first groups.

My son loves the Magic Tree House series and can't get enough of them! He is 8 years old and buzzes through one of them in about 50 minutes, this is hard to keep up with, but worth it! I am having a hard time finding the series books for 29 and up in box sets, but I will keep looking! In the interim, he is reading Treasure Hunters by James Patterson...he loves these too and they are much larger books 480 pages vs 70!!!

My kids are totally in love with the MTH series and we're excited to start this new set. So far we have only read book 21 about the Civil War. My kids were enthralled and wanted to learn more about the war between the states.

I purchased these as part of a care package for my 7 year old nephew. He was so excited. He read the first one the day he opened the box. This series is one of his favorites. This length is great for this age group as it is not so long that it doesn't scare them off. Will be sending more.

My daughter reads these multiple times! Nice price and a great gift for a kid (mine is 8) who wants to go on an adventure! She has almost every book from this series and will read them constantly! She even re reads the books she loves them so much! Which is great because I liked them as a kid and now she can read what I once read! (only she reads them much faster than I did at her age). They area great price on here as well!

My little one LOVES these books and collects them all. I got these especially because she requested American History books-- added bonus was that the books were from her favorite series. It was a great Valentine's/President's Day gift!

Buying the entire series over time and my 6 year old grandson can't wait for the next shipment. He really enjoys the adventures and is learning a lot. This applies to all my/his the reviews of the series so far.

My neices six year old son loves these books. He getting more for Xmas this year. Big six year old thumbs up on these.
